The Chief Executive Officer of the Food and Drugs Authority (FDA), Mrs. Delese A.A. Darko has been honored by the Advertising Association of Ghana (AAG) at the 13TH AAG GONG GONG Awards ceremony at the Kempinski Gold Coast Hotel on the 30TH of November, 2019 in Accra.

Mrs. Darko, was presented with a Special Recognition Award for her role in helping to sanitize the Advertising Industry by regulating the advertisement of FDA regulated products.

She has also strengthened collaboration between the FDA and other key stakeholders in the advertising industry so as to facilitate regulatory compliance in advertisement.

The AAG GONG GONG Awards is the flagship event for the Advertising industry in Ghana. The objective of the award ceremony is to demonstrate the importance of advertising in contributing to the success of businesses and to reward creativity developed locally in adding value to local businesses.

This recognition is a step in the right direction for the authority as it continues to put in place measures to protect and ensure public health and safety at all times.
